Kati—we've applied for PPP loan and are paying all our hourly employees as they would have been scheduled, for the time being. Our question is around unemployment and the PUA. Guessing that some of our staff might actually be able to do better in terms of overall income if we furloughed them or reduced their hours and they qualified for this. However, it seems unclear at this point whether church employees will actually qualify for this or not. Any guidance or updates you all can give as this gets clearer would be really helpful.

St Mary's did not attend treasurers meeting. Can you send out minutes or detail of the meeting.

From Kati Braak to Everyone: 12:17 PM

The main focus of the PPP loan is to keep your employees on the payroll which is part of the guidelines for forgiveness.
